1. Apologies

Emily Brett!e, Bill Granger, Ashley Mitchell, Cllr. Andrew Parkinson, Mark Taylor, Harlan Zimmerman

2. Minutes of 26.9.18 AGM

No comments were noted and the minutes were adopted.

3. Re-designation of Neighbourhood Forum for further 5 years from 5.9.19

The Forum have applied to be re-designated for a further five years from 5.9.19. The application was supported by 23 signatories, geographically dispersed throughout the Plan area.

Camden will run a public consultation on this between 6 August. and 1 October. The Cabinet will meet to consider the application on 25 October.

It will be very helpful if residents are able to send expressions of support to Camden, once the consultation is under way. Camden will provide an email address closer to the time.

4. RedFrog NF as statutory consultee for planning applications

The Neighbourhood Forum are now being formally being requested by Camden to submit representations in respect of planning applications.

The Forum require help with this. Linda spoke of the importance of monitoring planning applications to ensure that the Conservation Area is not harmed and to keep the area looking nice. She suggested that streets might keep an eye on planning applications, with the Forum offering support. Nancy noted that information on making a representation about a planning application is available on the Redington Frogal Association website at:

<http://www.redfrogassociation.org/planning/>

It may be expected that, if the Neighbourhood Plan is adopted, the workload will dramatically reduce.

5. Chairman's presentation of neighbourhood plan progress and Q&A

Booklets summarising the Draft Neighbourhood Plan (revised) policies were provided for every attendee. The booklets were comprised of eight pages of A4 coloured paper. Spiral-bound copies of the full Draft Neighbourhood Plan (revised) were also circulated.

The Regulation 14 public consultation launched at the October AGM attracted 70 responses from residents. A prize of a bottle of champagne had been offered to the 100th respondent, but this target was not met.

Stakeholder responses were received from Thames Water, Historic England, TfL, National Grid and Natural England.

Responses showed a very high level of support among residents, with support levels ranging from 91% to 99%, depending on the policy.

All comments received were addressed and incorporated into a revised version. But, continuing concerns by Camden, including in relation to the design codes, led RedFrog to seek assistance from Locality, with the appointment of an independent mediator to help take the Plan forward.

Changes Advised by the Independent Mediator

The mediator appointed, Dave Chetwyn, has worked as a Neighbourhood Plan examiner and has examined Neighbourhood Plans including Kensington and Chelsea and Norland Neighbourhood. He is also an adviser to the Department for Communities and Local Government.

Dave considered that, while the intent and evidence for the Redington Frogna! Neighbourhood Plan were clear, the policies and applications required a complete re-write if they were not to be struck out by an examiner.

For example, he advised that:

- the design codes should form part of the policy on Sustainable Design and Redington Frogna! Character and not be relegated to an appendix (as stipulated by Camden).

To ensure that the policies would be robust and able to withstand legal challenges, the policy text boxes have been rewritten as advised, and a new Local Heritage policy added to protect the Kidderpore Avenue water reservoir.

The Draft Redington Frogna! Neighbourhood Plan (Revised) now incorporates the following seven policies:

- Sustainable Design and Redington Frogna! Character.

This is a green design policy for new construction and new extensions, aiming to preserve garden space (with hedges and trees) and gaps between buildings

- Biodiversity and Green Infrastructure.

This aims to stem the loss of garden space and reverse some of the very marked losses in tree cover and hedges.

ProximTREE data indicate a 40% reduction in the number of RedFrog trees (private and Camden) between 2010 and 2016.

Changes in the Number of Trees by Height in the Redington Frogna! Area, 2010 and 2016

Height (metres)	2010	2016	% change
2-5m	2,747	73	-97%
6-10m	2,415	1,155	-52%
11-15m	1,491	1,615	8%
16-20m	1,086	1,237	14%
21-25m	245	703	187%
26-32m	25	279	1016%
total	8,009	5,062	-37%

These are robust data from aerial photography and show large and unsustainable losses.

The Biodiversity and Green Infrastructure policy also seeks to designate a number of Local Green Spaces: eg West Heath Lawn Tennis Club, the garden of Camden Arts Centre, the copse behind 17 Froggnal and the entire lawned and planted area at Studholme Court.

- Community Facilities

The area has few community facilities and the Plan seeks to preserve these and create new spaces to meet the needs of a growing and ageing population.

- Aspirational Development Sites

New community facilities will be provided for by new development. The Forum have identified a number of aspirational sites, such as the rear of the Finchley Road retail buildings, Meridian House (Allied Irish Bank), the Hampstead Gate office park and 1 Platt's Lane.

- Finchley Road Shopfronts

Finchley Road is a TfL-owned red route and the Neighbourhood Plan is unable to influence anything other than the buildings on the eastern side – in the event that planning applications are submitted.

The policy aims to enhance Finchley Road, and increase pedestrian footfall, through heritage-led regeneration (as on Holloway Road). Pocket parks are also planned, in order to introduce some greenery.

- Underground Development

The policy sets a number of tests for underground development to meet, including that it must not have any impact on neighbouring properties, on underground streams and spring lines, and must not contribute to groundwater flooding. A minimum soil depth of 2-3 metres above basements is required to enable tree planting.

- Kidderpore Reservoir

This new policy seeks to preserve the Victorian underground structure of the reservoir, in the event that reservoir becomes surplus to requirements (as at Gondar Gardens). A nature reserve is provided for at ground level.

Q&A

Mojgan noted that the previous policy, “Presumption against demolition of heritage assets” had been revised. This is a very good example of a policy that would have been struck out. Section 16 of the National Planning Policy Framework (February 2019) requires that heritage assets be preserved and it is not permissible for a Neighbourhood Plan to re-state national or local government policy.

Instead, therefore, the policy has been replaced with a policy to protect undesignated heritage assets. Undesignated heritage assets have been identified by the Neighbourhood Forum and, the separate document “Complementary Actions to Deliver the Redington Froggnal Neighbourhood Plan”, sets out advice that Camden be requested to adopt the list of Redington Froggnal non-designated heritage assets as part of its Local List.

6. Treasurer’s report

The Treasurer explained that the activities of the Neighbourhood Forum have largely been funded either through grants (eg from the Ministry of Housing Local Government and Communities or Community Infrastructure Levy funds) or from the Redington Froggnal Association.

Nevertheless, a deficit of £584 was incurred and the Forum has a pressing need for income. The Forum is not able to charge a membership subscription, as it is required to be accessible to all.

A separate bank account has not been opened for the Neighbourhood Forum.

7. Live CIL projects sponsored by the Neighbourhood Forum

- Froggnal / Finchley Rd pocket parks

Camden are purchasing a map of underground utilities (to determine if trees can be planted). The Neighbourhood Forum will then commission a design – probably from Broadbent Studio, which was responsible for Tudor Square in Sheffield

<https://broadbent.studio/casestudies>

- native hedgerow at Studholme Court

This has been completed. However, Eddie explained that the project has been funded by Studholme Court and that CIL monies have not been received. This is surprising, as it had been an early project proposed by the Neighbourhood Forum. Eddie will meet Cllr. Newman to discuss the project.

- tiled street names

A quote has been obtained from Cleghorn Lighting and submitted to Camden:

<http://www.cleghornlighting.co.uk/signage/>

- heritage litter bins

A champion is needed to identify a supplier of heritage litter bins (as used in Hampstead), provide an estimate of the number of bins needed and to cost project and take it forward.

- resurfacing of Croft Way and Bracknell Way and heritage barriers to Croft Way

Quotes have been obtained and submitted to Camden for a rustic-style resin-bound surface and heritage barriers. A porous surface would be substantially more expensive but would reduce surface water runoff. It was considered that the porous option would help deliver SuDS (sustainable urban drainage) in an area at risk of surface water flooding.

- paving for Arkwright Road

- pilot of Blue Green Urban tree pits

It is proposed that the projects to pave Arkwright Road and tree planting in Arkwright Road be undertaken at the same time, as part of traffic calming measures.

A meeting has been held with Riccardo Arnone, Tree Officer, and GreenBlue Urban to consider piloting specialised tree plots which enable trees to grow to maturity and help with SuDs.

StrataCell tree pits would be ideal for Arkwright Road, which suffers from heavy traffic, as these are able to withstand loads of 60 tonnes per square metre. To enable larger-canopy trees to be planted in Arkwright Road, it would be necessary to create build-outs and openings in the kerbs with soft areas incorporating rain gardens. This could reduce the volume of surface water from the catchment area running into the sewer by up to 50%, with pollutants filtered through the soil.

[David Wells, Camden's Highways Engineer, has been trialling a similar SuDs scheme in Camley Street:

<https://www.cyclescape.org/issues/3360-camley-street-sustainable-drainage-system-suds>]

- Lindfield / Langland width restriction

Highways have rejected one design and an alternative is being sought.

- Watermark project – phase I

The RedFrog area sits above a large body of underground water, with spring lines and many underground streams, including the River Westbourne. These have been mapped by Arup, with the aid of citizen science (evidence from residents) and it is proposed to mark these with cast bronze glyphs to indicate the direction and flow.

A2 maps of the underground rivers identified were displayed around the Marketing Suite.

These underground rivers are now enclosed as sewers, except for a small clean water section that flows through Branch Hill woods and into Redington Gardens.

A sample bronze glyph has been cast. It was not available in time for the AGM but is photographed below:

- Watermark II: restoration of Constable's Branch Hill Pond.

RedFrog have obtained funding from the City of London Corporation (£15,000) and from the Mayor of London (£20,000). The pond will be restored as an ephemeral wildlife / dragonfly pond and the work carried out by the Superintendent of Hampstead Heath.

A planning application has been submitted to Camden and has been registered under application number 2019/2965/P.

Other CIL projects

Mojgan enquired about the possibility of using CIL funds for electric vehicle charging points, eg in Bracknell Gardens. However, Camden is already engaged in a project to establish electric charging points.

8. Enforcement meetings

Camden is now adopting a stricter policy on Enforcement and, thanks to the efforts of Cllr. Parkinson, has required the Croft Way wall to be rebuilt in matching brick within the curtilage of the Hampstead Manor development.

Meetings with Camden, initiated by Hampstead NF, have been attended by Linda Chung, Emily Brettle and Nancy Mayo.

9. Air quality

Arkwright Road has the highest (illegal) levels of air pollutants in the RedFrog area. Meetings with Camden continue in an attempt to address this, with RedFrog represented by Val Russell and Charles Harris.

Janet noted that re-phasing of the traffic lights at the bottom of Arkwright Road has helped ease congestion, but that the phasing should be lengthened further.

10. Election of officers and Executive Committee

The Forum has the following posts:

- Chair
- Vice Chair

- Secretary

The following officers stood for re-election.
